Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0775672A1] Production of a flat glossy or ceramic moulding having a structured surface comprises: forming a rotationally symmetrical moist green body in hollow mould from a suspension of a highly dispersed powdered solid and a dispersant by centrifuging; cutting after removing from the mould and optionally rolling; spreading on a structured substrate; surface stamping; and producing the glassy or ceramic moulding by drying or sintering. The moulding produced is also claimed.
