Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0782886A2] The device comprises a hose-type bag containing the pulp and a component for emptying the bag of pulp and applying it in a controlled manner. The device has a basic body (1) provided with a hollow cylindrical chamber (13). The internal diameter of the chamber virtually corresponds to the external diameter of the hose-type bag. In the chamber is a displaceable piston for emptying the bag. A device is provided (11) for operating the piston and a nozzle arrangement (2) is available for application of the pasty pulp. A closure cover closes the chamber and the nozzle arrangement is fixed to it. The issuing end of the hose-type bag is tightly connected to the nozzle arrangement directly or via an intermediate piece.
