Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0782913A2] The hooks in the region of the rigid side wall (1c) of the press chamber and those of the pivoting cover are formed as claws (8) pivoting outwards and protruding into the press chamber. The hooks in the bottom area and on the pivoting press chamber side wall fit as rigid strips (7) on the press chamber inner sides. The pivoting claws lie in the foremost third of the press chamber, and the rigid strips extend out from the filling chamber area in the direction of the claws and end in the area between the foremost press plate position and the claws.
