Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0784130A1] The storm clip comprises a hook fastener for hooking onto the edge of a tile, and an end part for fixture to the roof lath. The shaft of the hook part extends orthogonally from the shaft (5) of the end fixture part (3). The shaft of the hook part is fixable to the shaft of the fixture at different distances from the end part in the direction of the hook shaft. The shaft of the hook part is arrangeable with the shaft of the fixture part in its longitudinal direction, at a different distance of the hook end of the hook part from the fixture part shaft. The fixture part extends orthogonally from a roof lath and parallel to the roof surface. It is fixable to a roof lath and the hook part extends orthogonally from the fixture part and crossways to the roof surface.
