Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0786406A1] A blade carrier (18) held in a horizontal position has a lift conveyor device (21) and produces a direct connection to the accommodation pocket (12) positioned aligned to the blade carrier. In the conveyor path of the lift conveyor device between the blade carrier and the accommodation pocket a mouthpiece (24) is integrated for pre-folding the section (1). The mouthpiece and the accommodation pocket are positioned over the blade carrier. A suction lifter is formed as a lift thruster lowerable into the locating surface of the blade carrier.
