Abstract (en)
A printing medium conveyed relative to a printing head is subjected to printing on a printing device. The printing head is arranged on a side of a conveying surface of a conveying passage for the printing medium along which the printing medium is conveyed. The conveying passage for the printing medium is inclined in a widthwise direction of conveyance, and a lower edge of the inclined conveying passage surface is bent in a V-shape along a direction of conveyance to provide a V-shaped conveying surface. The printing head is arranged in the vicinity of the V-shaped bent portion of the V-shaped conveying surface. <IMAGE>
