Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0792821A1] The foam head which fits on a tubular valve shaft has at least one outlet opening (11) which opens into a ring-shaped circumferential outlet gap (15) which defines an outlet plane (18) which extends inclined to the longitudinal centre axis (19) of the foam head (10). The outlet pipe (12) of the foam head, stemming from a conical upper part (20), may be enclosed by a ring shoulder (21) which fits on the circumferential edge of the pressure container and by a head wall (22) in which the outlet gap is formed. A finger dent (23) may be provided in the conical upper part.
