Abstract (en)
The packaging protects the edges of the appliance with four elongated corner pieces (6). The packaging has two vertical, opposite facing supporting shells (1) in each of which two corner pieces are integrated and which are joined by identical base and top plates (2). Each supporting shell is formed of a rectangular frame made up of the two corner pieces at the ends of which are transverse supports (4,5). A baffle piece (10) is integrated in the lower transverse support (5) and consists of preferably tubular baffle elements in a row. Inward protruding shock absorber elements (7,8) are integrated in the L-shaped corner pieces.
