Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0798431A1] The shuttering panels eg. for concrete moulding, are produced by chopping waste materials to set sizes and bonding with thermoplastic resins to mould to the required panel size. The chopped material has 15 to 30% of the mass with a particle size of less than 0.5 mm and with 20 to 40% with a particle size of 0.5 to 4 mm. Each side of the panel is clad with a layer of resin to obtain the required surface finish. The filling can include fibre material.
