Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9619632A1] The invention concerns a portable container (1) having at least one two-part housing (2, 3), one housing part having an opening for accommodating a connection member in the form of a strip, chain, strap (7) or the like. The housing comprises an outer part (2) and an inner part (3) which can be introduced into the outer part. The outer and inner parts have openings (6) which are aligned with one another when the inner part is introduced into the outer part.
