Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0800992A1] The packaging method involves inserting each CD in a CD box (1) which has a flat base (1a) and a pivoted cover (1b). The insertion is achieved by opening the cover and inserting a booklet (3) in the cover before it is pivoted back into the closed position. The inserted booklet is held within the cover during the closure movement via a pneumatic or mechanical device, an electromagnetic flux, or by electrostatic forces, for preventing its movement relative to the cover.
