Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0801010A1] The package has a foldable lid (11) hinged to the box part (10), through a collar (35) which is formed from a separate section. The collar has a front wall (36) and side walls (37,38). The collar is attached to an upper part that extends from the box part, so that the upper part is enclosed in the closed position by the lid. On the outside of the collar side walls and on the inside of the lid side walls there are projections (40) and cavities, which in the closed position are in firm engagement with each other.
