Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0801967A1] The method for assembling one or more wheels (4,54,104) on a vehicle (1) having a chassis (2) and a body work (3) involves introducing the end (4b) of the hub (4a) of a wheel across a support (5) solid with the chassis or body work and retaining it by forcing it into the support. The axis (76) can be partially lodged inside the hub of a first wheel prior to the introduction of the end of the hub across the support and capping a free end of the axle with a hub of a second wheel and introducing the hub of the second wheel across a second support fixed to the chassis.
