Abstract (en)
[origin: GB2297022A] The aid comprises an apron 1 of largely standard design to which a towel (13, Fig 2) is detachably connected, preferably with the aid of VELCRO (RTM) strips 11 and (15). Preferably the apron 1 is internally lined with a waterproof membrane. After bathing a baby, a wearer of the baby-bathing aid can immediately pull the towel one handed from the apron to dry the baby.
