Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9722112A1] An apparatus (740) for presenting stored text has a book card (136). The book card (136) contains a number of pointers (744) and a compression code (746). An interface (150) receives the book card (136). An internal memory (154) has a permanent dictionary (748) that contains a number of words. A processor (152) is in communication with the interface (150), the internal memory (154) and a display (130). The processor (152) displays a subset of the words, based upon the pointers (744), on the display (130).
