Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0814451A1] The device has first and second parts (2,3). In an end area of the second part a support component (7) is arranged with securing recesses (8) at predetermined distances from each other. Through the engagement of the securing retainer (6) in the different recesses (8) different securing positions are defined. The support component with the securing recesses, dependent upon the adjusted securing position, either forms the prolongation of the support component of the first part or runs within the housing (1). The first part and the second part of the housing are joined to one another on the side opposite to the support components (5,7) by means of a flexible part (4). The housing is made of extruded plastic.
