Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0818576A2] The pick-up (1) comprises a main body (2) with one or two tools, e.g. a grab (13) and a pointed stick (5). One of the tools is located separately, or is positioned to project forward over the second tool in at least one position. A working member (15,24) is movably held on the main body and is moved manually by a handle (18). A drive connection (9) with a transmission member (20-23) is located between them. The handle has a slide, and a cable (21) extends from this. A steering lever (23) is directly jointed to the working member.
