Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0823231A1] The system has at least one electrical or gas appliance (10), e.g. a cooking oven or refrigerator, combined with built-in fitted kitchen units, all of which incorporate an energy supply conduit (28) at the rear, for receiving current, gas and/or water supply lines. The kitchen appliances and the built-in kitchen units are stacked together via stacking frame elements (34) at their corners and associated coupling elements (36,38), so that their energy supply conduits are aligned.
