Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0825130A2] The food container has a main section (1) to hold the food and a hollow plinth formed by a skirted lip (2) under the container. The hollow space under the container provides storage for a promotional item. This is packed in a separate container (40) clipped into the plinth. The bottom lip of the skirt can be thickened to hold the additional container with a clip action. The base of the main container is convex to increase the additional space.
