Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0826837A1] The module consists of a formed body (1) of insulating material, and contains plumbing components. The body consists of two or more shell elements (2,3), which are adapted to the shape of the components, and are sound-insulating. The elements are fitted together tightly to enclose the components (5). The shell elements are connected especially waterproof to each other via frictionally-engaging tongue-and-groove parts, and may form plumbing components, especially water-containing parts. The formed body consists of several layers of different characteristics, e.g. density, strength, sound absorption, fire-proofing. The front is formed so that it can be tiled.
