Abstract (en)

[origin: DE19519961A1] The invention concerns an opener (1) for tobacco-filled cigarette shells (H) which comprises moistening devices (2) and opening devices (10) for moistening and opening an axially parallel shell region (B). The opening devices (10) comprise means (3) for discharging a medium (M) which can exert tearing forces on the moistened region (B). A tobacco-recovery arrangement is equipped with an opener (1) of this type.
