Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0834275A2] The curtain has pull cords (150) whose ends are fastened onto at least one fastening ring (20) pushed over a winding shaft (100). This shaft is fixed to a mounting bar (10) and has a number of cord guides (16). The ring has a cord collector (25) on its periphery. The ring is preferably attached to the shaft by a clamp or screw connection (26), or it may be formed from the shaft's material. The collector preferably comprises a shaped body which is fixed to the ring or removably attached to it. The ends of the cords may be attached to the collector by knots, clamps or clips.
