Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0838404A1] The device takes the wrap labels taken from an elastic label tape (3), using a rotating roller (20). A device (18) with a prestretching path for the label tape is positioned in front of the cutter (17), and fixes the labels by restoring the prestretching of the tape. The prestretcher is formed by an additional roller drive (22,23), positioned in front of the first one (20,21) in direction of advance. The speed of the second drive is lower than that of the first one by a preselected factor, to achieve a defined tape prestretch.
