Abstract (en)
A tape printing apparatus 1 includes a line recording mode for performing recording on a first recording medium using a recording head HD fixedly supported and an ink ribbon IR and a serial recording mode for performing recording on a second recording medium using an ink ribbon IR while moving the recording head HD in a main scanning direction. A detecting sensor detects a cassette TC to be used in the line recording mode or another cassette RC to be used in the serial recording mode. A control unit judges whether the detection result of the detecting sensor is in agreement with a line recording mode command or a serial recording mode command. <IMAGE>
