Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9617575A1] A mobile and lifting walker (1) has a pair of extending arms (8) to lift the user from sitting to standing position. Each arm has a lifting portion (9) to either engage under the armpits, or to which a sling or chair can be attached. The lifting portion (9) of the arms (8) remain parallel to the ground during the lifting action. The walker has wheels (3) so that the user can walk and be supported by the walker.
