Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9712764A1] The invention relates to a commercial unit (7b) of printed matter of value with a plurality of partial units (5b) which comprise a plurality of printed items (3b) of value, and is characterised in that a cut marking pattern (19) comprising one or a plurality of cut recesses (17b) is positioned in each individual printed item (3b) in such a manner that each printed item (3b) from the same partial unit (5b) exclusively has the same cut marking pattern (19b), and each printed item (3b) from different partial units (5b) has differing cut marking patterns (19b). The invention also relates to a method for providing and issuing these printed items (3b) in which the partial units (5b) are provided to end users with 2 time delay and/or at different places for issuing the printed items (3b).
