Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0855159A2] The recliner and or seat part (2) can be swivelled on a horizontal axle (31) running the entire width of the frame (3). The axle is pivot mounted in a side, curved connecting part (30). The frame consists of two parallel side parts (20) each possessing a first frame part (21) resting on the ground. The side parts each have a second frame-part (22) continuing the first frame-part with an upward-leading curve, and extending upward over a quadrant. The top end of the second frame-part forms an arm-rest (22a).
