Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0857432A2] A zipperless wetsuit comprising: a main body part; an upper body part including a neck which is stretchable to provide the entry area into the suit for a wearer; a first bib attached to the main body part, which first bib has a main collar, the first bib being locatable, in use, over a wearer's head such that the main collar overlies and seals the entry area; and a second bib attached to the main body part substantially opposite the first bib, which second bib has a collar, the second bib being locatable, in use, over a wearer's head such that the collar of the second bib overlies the main collar of the first bib, thereby further sealing the entry area. <IMAGE>
