Abstract (en)

[origin: ES1038708U] The decorative element (2) is fixed to the support bar (1) by at least one twisted wire joint (3). This is adapted for gripping round the bar. The decorative element is fixed by its twisted wire joint to the support bar by at least one screw (4) fitting into a threaded bore (5) which passes laterally through the twisted wire joint. The support bar has at least one recess for gripping the free end of the screw.
