Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0858766A1] The container to receive damp wiper covering has on its small side pockets (5,5') for a holder of a wiping device. There are raised supports (19,19',19'') in the container interior, and high in-between the pocket lying region in the container are in-laid damp wiper coverings (1). The raised supports may be built from a support body that has a horizontal support surface (20). The support body may have, on both sides of the horizontal support surface, skewed support surfaces (21,22) that can extend upto the small sides of the container. The support body may be a single component part of the container and built on the container base (14).
