Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0859092A2] The mounting to fit a unit to a carrier plate has a second holder (30) at the under side of the fitted unit with a downwards claw section (34) supported by the clamping screw (36). The tightening action of the screw (36) moves the claw upwards for a spreading support claw (72) to dig into the plate section edge (24). A second sliding surface (64) runs at an angle upwards to the plate section edge for the support claw. The second sliding surface (64) is at the under side of the second ratchet projection (60).
