Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0864279A2] The holder has a fixture (2) and a container for an end bearing of the bed. At least one horizontal dowel-pin and a support surface (3) for vertically supporting the end bearing (4) are positioned on the fixture. The support surface has a cavity with inwardly-pointing detents for gripping an extension (6) extending downwards from the end bearing. The inwardly-pointing detents define the free aperture of the cavity not exceeding external size of the extension. The detents consist of holder-arms (7) elastically formed on the underside of the support surface and pointing inwards and downwards.
