Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0864280A1] The fastening component has a shank (1). One end of the shank is hooked and the other end supports a disc (2). The shank has radially protruding holder arms (11-15), which each occupy only a part of the periphery of the shank. Two sides of the shank are flat. The holder arms are formed on the non-flattened sides (9,10). The holder arms' edges face forwards in a rotary direction are rounded, and the backward facing edges are blunt. The shank and the disc have a multiple-edged longitudinal hole.
