Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0864815A1] A cooking oven of a domestic or professional type, comprising a cooking space having a plurality of removable shelves (2) inserted therein, further comprises at least a vertical journal (1) secured to a wall of the cooking space, each shelf (2) being provided with a connection (5) capable of allowing the coupling to said journal (1) and the rotation around it independently of the other shelves (2). Thus an absolute safety is obtained in pulling out the shelves, which always remain perfectly horizontal and can not be inadvertently removed, and it is easy to have access to any point of the shelf without having to put your hands into the oven. <IMAGE>
