Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0869208A1] To form a double-layer woven fabric, partially bonded together, the layers are woven separately over each other and, at the loom, their edges are bonded together at least partially. Also claimed is a woven material which has a sack or tubular structure. The upper (2) and lower woven layers are generally rectangular, with a woven bonding between them at three edges (4) with a woven partially stepped and/or curved bond.
