Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0874338A1] The delivery device has a number of replaceable or refillable supply containers (1) and a transport device (3) for feeding a data carrier (2) to a delivery opening. A sensor (9) is positioned in the path of the data carrier in front of the delivery opening, for verifying the value or function of the data carrier, to allow an incorrect data card to be diverted to a reception container (11). The sensor may operate in conjunction with a pivoted card guide (7), inserted in the card feed path, which can act as a deflector for diverting the incorrect cards into the reception container
