Abstract (en)
A container lid 12 has a security portion 36 attached at a hinge line 38 so that as the lid is closed, the portion 36 can hang down inside the container to obstruct an aperture in a wall of the container, thereby improving security. Flanges 44 abut the underside of the lid 12B to prevent the security portion 36 being pushed away from the aperture being obstructed. The lid is described as part of a container whose body can nest with a body of a like container, with the lid removed and housed within the container, when not in use. <IMAGE> <IMAGE>
