Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0878145A1] The applicator (1) comprises a flexible cover (3) sealed with the composition. The cover is delimited by a peripheral edge (13) which by partial folding on itself defines a pocket (2) inside which the composition is introduced. The partially folded edge delimits an opening (4) for the pocket. Removable means are provided to seal the opening and define a closed volume enabling, before application, the conditioning of the composition. After unfolding the edge of the cover a bonnet (16) is formed which covers totally the hair (C) on the person's head (15) and holds the composition in contact with the hair.
