Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0884014A2] The holder comprises a base section (20) and an upwardly projecting holder section (40), stemming from the base section, around which a band (14) from a watch (12), or similar, can be laid. The holder section comprises of a lower rigid section ring (42) detachably connected to an upper variable section ring (62). Both section rings are connectable to a receiver ring, with variable outer diameter, for a wrist watch or similar with varying band lengths. The ring ends (44,64) have differing positions. There may be a lattice template (46,66) on, at least, one, preferably both, section ring that is insertable in differing relative positions corresponding to differing outer diameter of the holder section.
