Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9732292A1] A picture frame postcard for transmitting and displaying a photograph or other visual display. The picture frame postcard includes a main panel (110) having a front face (120) and a rear face (130) and defining an interior region for containing a photograph or other visual display. The front face (120) includes a removable panel (230) to permit the display of the photograph or other visual display contained within. The rear face (130) may be used to provide a postage and address panel and includes a slot (300) into which the removable panel (230) may be placed to permit the entire assembly to be supported in the vertical direction to facilitate viewing of the photograph or other visual display.
