Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0887042A1] The grating has two upwardly raking, inwardly undercut side flanges containing insert strip made of deformable material such as felt, bristle elements or textile overlay with one side flange (4) having a lower height than the other. The lower side flange (5) ends above the undercut edge (8), while the other flange sets out with a cowl (9) reaching out over it. The profile strips couple in parallel with their lowest flanges facing each other.
