Abstract (en)
The plugging cap has a cylindrical body (2) with a central orifice (6) in an end face (7). A pourer spout (3) can move in a plane perpendicular to the orifice axis (19) and a channel (10) in the pourer communicates with the central orifice. A rotating cover (4) covering the cap body and the pourer has a lateral window (20) through which the front (21) of the pourer passes when in use. The cap body has a cylindrical shaft (8) on its end face which delimits the central orifice. The pourer is connected to this shaft by a deformable resilient body (9). The channel communicates with the shaft through a pipe (11) in the resilient body and the shaft wall. The cover comprises an axial cylindrical sleeve (18) which fits inside the shaft and has a lateral slot (18) facing the pipe in the shaft wall when the cap is in its use position.

Abstract (fr)
L'invention concerne une capsule de bouchage à bec verseur auto-éclipsable qui comprend un corps de capsule (2) avec un orifice central (6), un bec verseur mobile (3), et un couvercle (4) tournant qui commande la sortie et l'effacement du bec verseur. Le corps de capsule (2) comporte une cheminée (8) qui communique avec le bec verseur (3) par un corps souple (9) creux élastiquement déformable, et le couvercle (4) comporte un manchon (16) emboîté dans la cheminée (8) et présentant une lumière latérale (18) susceptible d'être en regard de la canalisation (10) du bec verseur. <IMAGE>
