Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0892232A2] The barrel fridge consists of the outer barrel (1) from chestnut wood, with inner stainless bucket (3), polyurethanes insulation (2), flow tap (5) and mouth with air filter-lid (4), with ventilation pipes (7) and sulphurous liquid (6) and it's fixed on case base (18), inside which there are the cooling machine and its accessories. The barrel (1) and the base-case (18) are painted and polished in the same tint of wood. The barrel fridge can also have polyacetylanium sack inside, suitable for foods, instead of the stainless bucket (3), partitions so that different varieties of wine can be placed into it and can open a horizontal partition, while an electronic plaque can regulate the temperature and the fullness of the content. <IMAGE>
