Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0894477A1] The shackle (18) has a groove with base (18.1) extending over 180 degrees , and two side walls (18.2,18.3) next to the groove-base. The side walls contain the fixture bar running along a spinal column and resting on the groove-base. The fixture bar is tightened by a screw arrangement (20.1,20.2). The groove-base extends over an extra part angle so as to enclose the fixture bar along more than 180 degrees . The screw arrangement enables the side walls to be pressed together to tighten the fixture bar. The hook (12) has a hook part (16) protruding away from one side wall (18.3). A cross bar is fixed across the fixture bar by a connector.
