Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0895028A1] The ceramic lining has a wall plate (3) made of structural ceramic resistant to high temperatures has at least one continuous through-opening (6). Each opening has a fixture element (4) made of structural ceramic withstanding high temperatures. A base of the fixture element is positioned in a metal holder fixed to the metal supporting wall. A rounded head (20) of the fixture element rests in the opening in the wall plate, and the curvature (21) of the rounded head is pressed onto a straight support surface (22) of the wall-plate opening.
