Abstract (en)

In a package box for a spark plug, a paper tray (10) has an array of lower cellular boxes (30) provided to accommodate lower portions of spark plugs to protect their spark gaps against dimensional alteration, and an array of upper cellular boxes (20) provided to retain upper portions of the spark plugs in place. A casing package (2) is provided to accommodate the paper tray. The lower cellular boxes have circular crease lines (41) each about the size so that individual thread portions of the spark plugs can be inserted, and having a plurality of incision lines (42) provided oriented radially toward central portions of the circular crease lines. <IMAGE>
