Abstract (en)

A method for disposing of the washing liquid in a machine for washing items and the washing machine. The machine comprises a chamber for washing the items, means for supporting at least one item in the washing chamber, means for storing the washing liquid, means for bringing the washing liquid into contact with the item to be washed, and means for eliminating the washing liquid from the machine. According to the method, to eliminate the washing liquid from the machine, the washing liquid is evaporated, thus reducing the volume of liquid to be eliminated. <IMAGE>
