Abstract (en)
[origin: US6250598B1] A holder for swivelling panels, flip boards, or the like, particularly used as a wall holder, is injection molded in a single piece. The rear wall of the shell-shaped base body of the holder is provided with windows in the area of pins for receiving swivelling panels in order to enable the holder to be produced in a single operation and by using an injection molding tool having only a top part and a bottom part.
