Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0904813A2] An enlightening double chess game presenting a board having a higher number of ranks and the double number of files than the traditional chess, with a double number of chessmen per player, two of which have been created anew. All this makes possible a higher diversity in the game, creates a new space and increase moves. The two new pieces are placed by the king and the queen, respectively, and their moves are a combination of those of other traditional pieces. The enlarged board having thus been created will allow, as well, to play checkers by incorporating a higher number of pieces. <IMAGE>
