Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9749278A1] A milking stall for housing an animal to be subjected to an animal-related action comprises enclosure means (2), defining an area (1) and having at least one passage (3) permitting the animal to enter said area (1), and equipment (5, 8) for the performance of said action regarding the animal being present in said area. In order to distract the animal from said action and without offering the animal feed containing a considerable amount of energy, activatable distracting means (13, 15) is provided.
